Montage of Memories

Orion '67 is a collection of pictures and words, depicting exciting events as well as everyday happenings. It is a true impression of what it was like to be the class of '67, Daniel Boone High School.

Formation of the jointure of Amity, Union and Birdsboro began in 1955. Plans for expansion were approved by the Department of Public Instruction in 1960. Following a wait for money and controversy over a location, Birdsboro was selected as an appropriate place to build and a tract of land was purchased.

It was 1964 before the actual construction started. Progress was plagued by strikes, a flood, and a hurricane. By summer, 1966, the building was nearing completion. Once more misfortune struck. The former junior high school was gutted by fire and the Daniel Boone Schools lost new books, furniture, supplies and equipment being stored there for use in the new school.

On September 7, 1966, the new Daniel Boone High School opened. The building was incomplete as to auditorium, gymnasium, art and music rooms, industrial arts and home economics departments as well as furniture and supplies. During the first months of school workmen were seen in the halls, bare pipes and wires were visible and many a class was interrupted by hammering or electric drill. With the cooperation of students, teachers and administration we went on with school.

Our class, first to be graduated from the new senior high school, has been a leader in many fields. Orion '67 is the first yearbook to be published by a Daniel Boone Class. As Juniors we were first to organize a National Honor Society. Above all, we are proud to claim the spirit and determination that makes us a class that's "on the move" in a school that's "on the move."

'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view
And robes the mountain in its azure hue

The thrill of a parade . . . the fervor of a football game . . . the joy of packing . . . the excitement of moving into a new school . . . the fun of working on a yearbook . . . the beginning of our senior year . . . the anxiety of graduation . . . the dawn of a career . . . all these combine to form the Class of '67—a class that can be described as "on the move."

School Life

The word is go—on packing for the new school.

Is it possible he put a right-footed stocking on?

library books for the big move

What a lot of stuff there is

Happy to get out on the last day of school

Round and 'round he goes

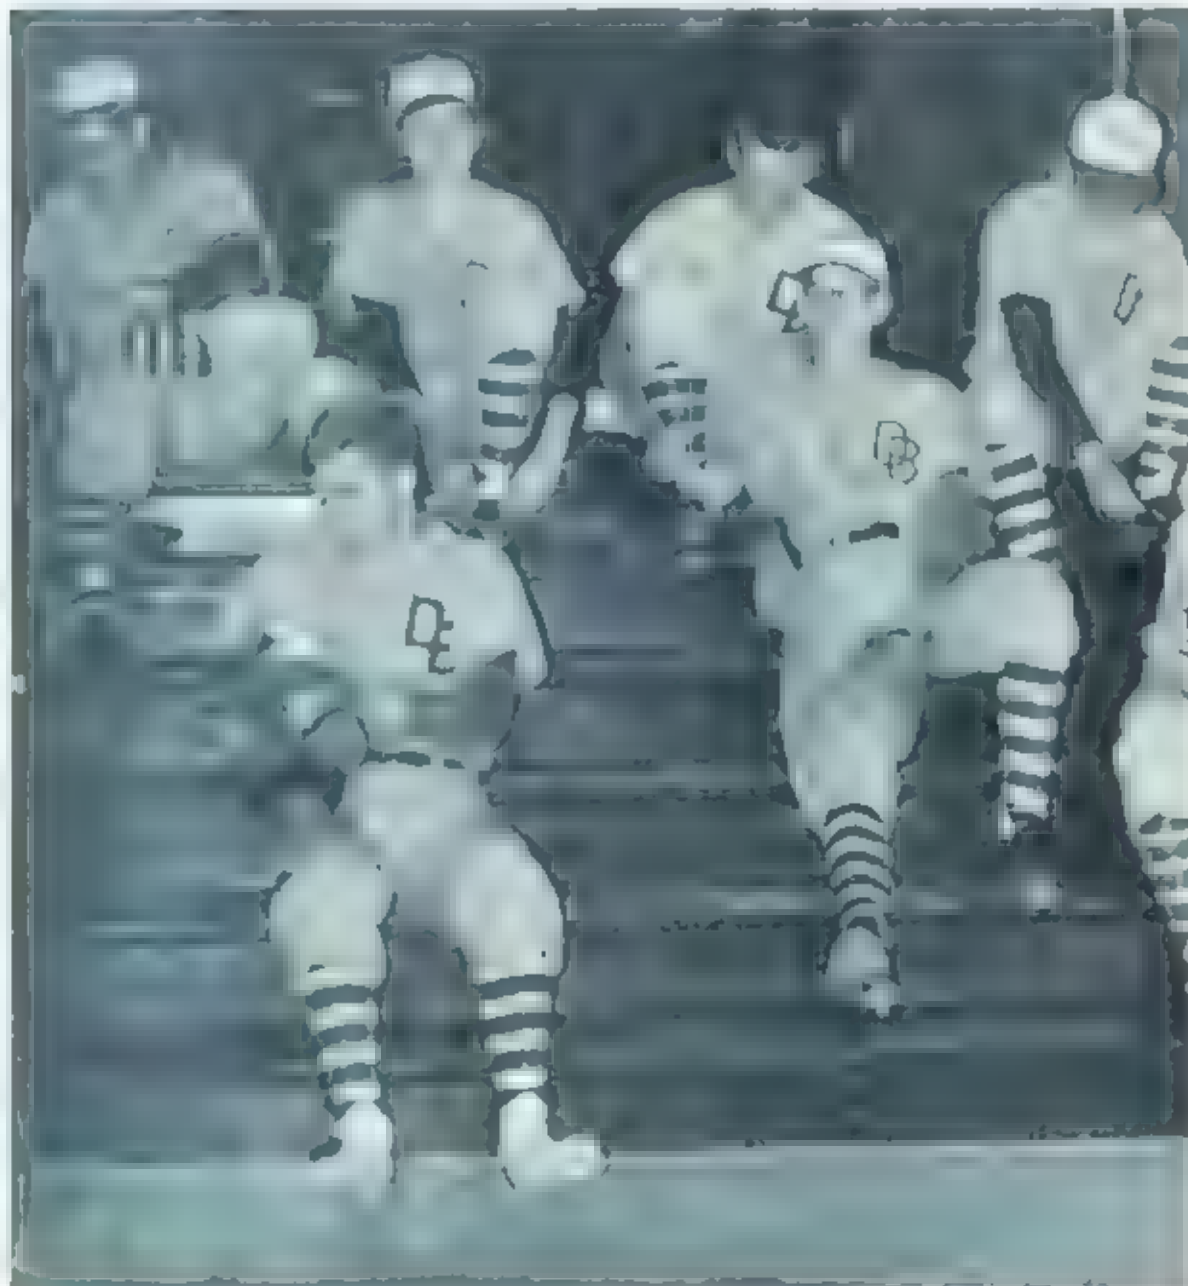

How did they answer to that position

How did they answer to that position

To the Class of 1967

I would like to extend my congratulations to the members of the Yearbook staff and their advisor for successfully completing this first issue of the Orion. The ability to take an idea and make it reality has a future without limits.

Extending this thought of "future without limit" I would like to address a few thoughts to all members of the senior class. As you read these few words your career in public school has reached its zenith. From Kindergarten to Senior has gone so quickly that it is often quite difficult to reflect on the many things one has enjoyed: the fun with friends, the love of parents, and the sharing of your future with teachers. All of these have had their time and place in bringing you through this phase of your life. These are the precious sparks that began ideas such as the one that started this first yearbook. Now you must from within yourself remain continually alive with the desire to expand your personal future without limit. May you find this challenge ever exciting!

Again my congratulation to all members of the Class of 1967. I believe it has been a most rewarding and memorable year for all students of the Daniel Boone Schools.

The Junior-Senior Prom

On the evening of May 7, 1966, the Junior Class presented their annual prom which was held at The Reading Country Club. Distinguished guests included; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller, Mr. and Mrs. William Knouff, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Rinheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weiler, Mrs. Edna Howell and Mr. Stuart Witman, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Capilo.

Palm trees, grass huts, spears, shields, coconuts, straw monkeys, shells, fish nets, and a water fountain decorated the ballroom in accordance with the theme, "Some Enchanted Evening".

Guests attending enjoyed a full course dinner consisting of fresh fruit cup with lime sherbet, vegetable soup, pineapple salad, roast turkey with giblet sauce, potato filling, corn, rolls and butter, apple pie, iced tea or coffee, and after dinner mints. The remaining hours were spent dancing to the music of "The Skyliners". The gala event provided enjoyable hours for all those present.

Student Council

Much of the fun and excitement of our high school years is made possible by the function of our student council. There are few seniors who will forget the student council convention in their sophomore year or the first Morp held in that same year. And every Christmas each faculty member receives a carnation courtesy of the student council. This year our student council is maintaining the Student Store and is responsible for the purchase of the sign placed at the entrance to the school. Besides initiating activities, the student council carries the voice of the entire student body in the policies set forth by the administration.

Yearbook Staff Completes First Orion

In the Spring of 1966 the junior class decided to have a yearbook. It would be the first ever for Daniel Boone High School! The money provided by the class would start off this project so that future classes could have a record of their junior and senior high school years. What most of the students did not realize at that time was that money was only part of the job—and a comparatively small part of it at that! Students who went out for yearbook staff had no idea of the hard work, the many hours of time, and the careful advance planning that would be required.

They all felt it would be a lot of fun. Writing copy, laying out pages, preparing art work, getting photographs (on time), selling the yearbook, and making many important decisions concerning format were part of the time consuming duties that loomed ahead. Little did they know! Almost every month a "deadline" was required. Many times it was a "photo finish" with students working long hours at night to meet the deadline.

As the final pages of the yearbook were finished, we all heaved a big sigh of relief. Now that it's over, and the printers have sent proofs, we realize that our accomplishment really amounted to something—a "book" in fact! We will always remember the fun and problems and laughs we had working on the yearbook. We hope the yearbook represents to you what we mean it to be—an unbiased, realistic picture of your year at Daniel Boone High School.

The Class of '67 presented a play entitled "Portrait of Jennie" as their Junior Class Play. It is a story of an artist, Eben Adams, who is inspired by Jennie. Jennie is a girl and a woman of two lives—two worlds: one real, the other a veiled mysterious life where a girl can move in time. She comes back to see Eben, the man she loves, and who loves her, at unexpected moments and at different ages. Humor and reality are added by Arne, a painter friend of Eben's, Gus, a cab driver, and Miss Spinney and Mr. Mathews, art dealers. Eben's encounters with his landlady and her daughter are also amusing. All these events give the play a definite feeling of reality. But one question remains—Was Jennie real or just an inspiration?

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class presented a delightful comedy entitled, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." It is a story of the escapades of two girls, Emily and Cornelia, on an uproarious trip to Europe. The girls meet Winifred and Harriet, two conservative English girls, who breeze in and out of Emily and Cornelia's cabin. Emily has an adventure with a stowaway. Cornelia just barely recovers from a bout with the measles with the help of Leo and Dick, Harvard medical students. On arriving in Paris, the girls' lives are far from dull. Cornelia is bitten by bedbugs. Her attempts to impress a French actor, M. de la Croix, are also amusing. All ends well and on a happy note for everyone.

Blazer halfback, Mike Westley, turns the corner on one of his many punts around end. Here Mike eludes opposing players before finally being brought down short of the goal line.

The Daniel Boone football team concluded the season with a sterling 8-1 record, ending the season with a 54-0 victory over West Reading. Under the expert guidance of coach Al Brazinsky, the Blazers rolled over seven straight opponents before being nipped by Exeter on November 3.

Along with the Inter-County League Championship, the fine record also distinguished the boys as the top defensive unit in the county allowing only 35 points for the opposition. Numerous individual standards were established also with Dick Wland capturing the league scoring title. Terry Kennedy, Jim Calhoun, Pat Johnson, Denny Iezzi, Darrell Johnson, and Dick Wland all were selected on the All Inter-County League team with the latter three also netting All-County berths.

Daniel Boone's cross country team has started its march upward and the major cause is Dennis Pinti. Out of eleven meets, Pinti captured six first places and numerous seconds. He was also the first and only Boone barrier to earn a medal at the Berks Conference run where he placed sixth. This 1966 season also marked the first shut out accomplished by the Blazers' cross-country team.

It was, indeed, a year of many firsts for Jay Miller's boys and their latest ninth place finish is destined to change. The squad loses one member and their star, Denny Pinti, is among the returnees.

Practice Makes Perfect—Here the varsity squad practices corners before a game.

Our DB girls had a productive season compared to other years. They broke their losing streak of twenty games by beating the first place Oley Lynx by a score of 4-2. After losing seven games this season, the Blazerettes managed a victory and a tie. They never gave up. They kept up the hustle all season—providing their worth. Our leading scorers for the season were Margie Stewart 5 goals, Peggy Mountz 3, and Claudia Corbett 2.

The Daniel Boone High wrestling team for 1966-67 is: first row, Seth Updegraff, mgr., T. Whalen, K. Hartline, M. Galespie, H. Amole, D. Biegel, and Les Wagner, mgr.; Second row, J. Reuser, B. Baer, A. Morris, B. Rhodes, M. Grainger, A. Cuccaro, D. Smith, G. Hughes, C. Lyons, N. Rader, and J. Miller. Third row, C. Snyder, mgr., R. Shutt, J. Favinger, T. Hummel, T. Kennedy, B. Nagel, J. Galtman, B. Gathart, L. Wagner, M. Westley, J. Reuser, S. Casner, J. Taylor, and Don Weaver, coach.

Westley Sectional Champ

Boone's Lester Wagner works for a position and a possible pin in a 145 lb. weight test at Hirdshoro. Les completed a highly successful 11-1 by being seeded first at the Berks sectional meet. He later dropped a tough 3-2 verdict in the semi-finals.

Westley, Wagner, Kennedy, and a spunky freshman by the name of Shutt. That simple phrase explains the Blazer wrestling squad's surge to the .500 level in 66-67. Coach Don Weaver's matmen compiled a 6-6 record in the Berks loop and Coach Weaver always relied on the former four grapplers for carrying Boone's banners. Mike Westley, a 120 lb. senior, became Boone's third sectional champ by avenging a late season loss to Mifflin's Phil Ertel in the sectional meet. Les Wagner was top seed at 145 but lost a squeaker in the semi-finals as did Terry Kennedy (8-2-2) in the 165 lb. weight class. Little Ray Shutt (95) gained second seed placement but the gritty freshman didn't quite make it to the champ's spot. He'll be back next year, though, as will Les Wagner and with such a fine nucleus, how can you lose?

Blazer standout Mike Westley is shown in the ready position in a match against Hamburg. Mike posted a 13-1 regular season record besides coming out sectional champ in the 120 lb. weight class

Wrestling

Boone's representative in the 95 lb. class, Ray Shutt, maneuvers for a reversal in a match at Birdshoro. Although only a freshman Ray compiled a highly respectable 4-3-1 record for the year

Record 66-67
16 wins 8 losses

First place didn't quite go to Daniel Boone this year but an overall record of 16-8 and a league record of 10-4 was good enough for second place. The Blazers edged out arch rival Exeter by ending the season with a triple overtime victory over Mount Penn. Led by junior Denny Iezzi and seniors Vern Kulp, Darrel Johnson, and Dick Wiand the Blazers compiled a 58 per game average while only giving up 51 points per game to the opponents.

Daniel Boone's sophomore guard, Denny Mountz, goes up for two of his ten points against Oley. Mountz has just taken a pass from Denny Iezzi, out of the picture.

Girls' Basketball

Our girls' basketball team seemed to have more pep and go than last year. Most of their games ended close and were very exciting. In their first league game with Mt. Penn, they won by a score of 34-32. This game put spirit in the team. Their following games were hard fought and the final scores prove this fact.

One way to get the ball down the court is to dribble—ask Margie Stewart!

A free throw is taken by Doris Wunderlich as the other players look on.

Beginning a New Era

The transition pictured above shows the start of a structure and the finished product. It is symbolic, we believe, of the graduating seniors. We were finishing the first grade twelve years ago and graduation was an unknown idea. Our scope was limited to the next year. Now we are to deal with our entire life span—not just the next year in school. We have grown and matured here until we've reached the zenith of our high school years—graduation. As we receive our diplomas in June we will leave a school we have loved. We will step into a world that's on the move, and we will have to keep up. We will step into the future prepared to meet the challenges ahead because we were the Class of 1967—and we were truly on the move.
